Double Duties Face Debating Squads Today

Speech Clashes Feature Short-Stopping Huskies, Reliable Golden Bears

The debate squad is entertaining two teams for the first time this afternoon. Washington University's barnstorming team will pay a flying visit; stopping just long enough to discuss "How can the United States best promote World Peace?" This debate will be held in the Activities Room in order that the expected audience may be accommodated. The new style of problem solving debate that State has been experimenting with will be employed. Bob Blackwell will open with an analysis of the background and history, and a presentation of the different peace plans. After Washington discusses the advantages of the various and sundry plans; and the possibilities of putting them in practice; William Rose will conclude the symposium with an evaluation of the other speeches. Then the audience will be given an opportunity to question the various speakers when question will be opened for a general discussion by the house.

This debate will start at 2:30—sharp: for the Washington squad is trying to keep to a schedule and must leave immediately after the debate.

A half-hour later, another problem will be attacked by State's debaters, when in annex A-11, Jeannette Jennings and Arnold Vezzani will vie with two of California's funditorians. This debate will be the fourth in the series* of eight debates with Cal in which the new symposium style that has been attracting so much comment lately is being put to the test. The question for this discussion will be: Resolved: That the State of California should adopt a system of Socialized Medicine.

After the debates, the speakers will be guests of Delta Sigma at Veneto's for dinner.

Frosh Jig On Treasure Isle, Buy Bids Early

Jimmy Howard Orchestra Will Swing In Ballroom Of Cal. Building, April 1

By PEGGY ROACH

This story is writing itself. When you take an event like the Freshman Hop; put it in the middle of the Golden Gate International Exposition, in the California Building Ballroom, to be exact; then add the music of Jimmy Howard, plus the fact that bids, including admission to the fair, are only $1.50; there isn't much that a reporter can do with adjectives to glamorize the Hop.

The job of getting arrangements for the dance complete in record time has been undertaken by Jack Kelly, High Frosh president, Alan Mowbray, Low Frosh ,president and Lorraine Sshwaderer, Low Frosh vice-president. Negotiations to allow parking near the dance site were being completed and Exposition officials gave verbal promises that the parking privilege would be given to the Freshman class.

"There's only one thing to remember," said Jack Kelly, "there will be a bid for every one, admission to the Fair included, but they must be secured early. The California Ballroom is swell. It is ample enough to hold a capacity crowd comfortably. We are taking care of every arrangement to make this the biggest event of them all.

"That sounds like the usual speech of the class president, but I really mean it. What else is there to say?, continued the Frosh prexy. "I really am sincere when I say that the Freshman class will go to town on this major event."

Jimmy Howard, young MCA orchestra leader will be featured at the Hop. His music, featuring the Hammond Organ, will open the Hop at 9.00 p.m. on April 1. The arrangements of the east bay maestro will set the theme for the Nautical decorations planned by the committee under the directions of Lorraine Schwaderer.

Bids will go on sale at the college within the next few days.

Players Practice, Produce Pranks

Getting their funny bones into practice for performance in "George and Margaret" will be the main concern of the Little Theater group for the next few weeks.

Mayor Rossi Pleads For Campus Bills In Letter To Solons

The following letter, written by Mayor Rossi in support of the new Ingleside Campus was sent to each member of the legislature by Cliff Worth, Student Body President:

TO THE MEMBERS OF THE FIFTY-THIRD SESSION OF THE CALIFORNIA LEGISLATURE:

March 1, 1939

There are now before the Legislature four bills, S. B. No. 261, S. B. No. 347, S. B. No. 669 and A. S. No. 1370, all of which pertain to the San Francisco State College. May I express myself as being heartily in favor of the immediate passage of these bills?

Should these bills become law, the creation of an important, adequate, educational institution to serve the San Francisco Community will result. Such a College is essential to the cultural and educational growth of this city and surrounding areas.

The passage of these bills will permit the replacing of the old, unsightly fire-trap college campus crowded into two small city blocks, with a modern, spacious campus complete with all required college buildings and facilities. The new College will be an asset to the City and to the State.

For some years we have put forth every effort to improve the facilities of the College. I am convinced that now is the time to act for the rehousing of San Francisco State College, and I trust that this session of the legislature will find itself in a position to make an adequate capital investment for the local College.

On behalf of San Francisco, may I exhort the members of the Legislature to bring to San Francisco, the development of San Francisco State College which has been, for so many years past, so sorely needed.

Respectfully,
ANGELO J. ROSSI
Mayor

PETTICOATS PLAN BRACER PLAY-NIGHT

Banking on the success of the frist Bracer, the W.A.A. is planning another play-night with the same alias. It will be held Thursday, March 9, in the gym.

In charge of activities will be Thelma Raastad, Golden Gater Sport Page Outdoor Girl. Miss Rastad is at present furthering the plans for the badminton, volley ball, ping-pong, and dart games. Group contest will also be a part of the program.

Due to the preference of games to dancing, the latter will be abandoned. However, music will be played and any couples that tire of the athletics can do a little "jigging" in the corners.

When the evening draws to a close refreshments will be served. Thelma invites all fellows and girls who really want to have a swell time to come over to the gym around 7 Thursday.

According to Bobbie Sandeen a roller skating party is slated for March 16.

BETA PI SIGMA HEARS ORCHID CONNOISSEUR

What do you know about orchids?

If you don't, all will be explained today at 12:10, in Room 209 College Hall. Mr. Roy Metcalf, State's own 'orchidologist', will be the guest speaker of Beta Pi Sigma. Through the medium of the camera, he will show all.

New members of the fraternity are: Ruby Patterson, Chester Cade, and John Tilden. The group is sponsored by Dr. Rowe with the assistance of Dr. Stanley Morse and Mr. Maurice Amsden and Miss Edna Fisher, of the science department. The membership of the group now numbers 24.

At present the activities committee of the club are formulating plans for the next meeting on Tuesday, March 14.

A motion picture entitled "Steel" is tentatively planned to be shown. It embraces the use of steel in the construction of the Golden Gate Bridge.

The last affair of the group was attended by seventy persons.

STATE QUEEN RULES FAIR

According to Vernon Rees, student chairman of San Francisco State Day at the Fair, May 2, the sports stadium seating approximately 10,000 will be at the disposal of the student body. Rees and his committee are now at work lining up a sports program for the day.

As was announced before, the A Capella Choir, symphony orchestra, band, and art department will be on hand for exhibitions on the day.

According to last minute notice, a decision on the student rate for the day has not been reached. Rees expects to have another interview this week with C. W. Vandeburg, promotion head.

Frances Kelleher, Sigma Pi Sigma queen will reign over the Island during State Day at the Fair. Miss Kelleher was chosen out of a group of 25 girls by downtown judges in the Sigma Pi Sigma 'Shine for '39 Dance" held in November.

Participation In Contest Urged

Panhellic groups of New York City are sponsoring an essay contest devoted to a consideration of the so-called "four Freedoms" contained in the First Article of the Bill of Rights. The contest is open to undergraduates in colleges and universities throughout the country.

Topics have been supplied in the form of questions by General John J. Pershing, Dr. James Rowland Angell, Dean Virginia Gildersleeve, Dr. Hans Kohn, Hans Kalyenborn, Arthur Krock, Mrs. Vincent Astor, Mrs. A. Sumner Welles, Dr. Stringfellow Barr, Herbert Wright, and Mayor Fiorello La Guardia.

The essay contest closes May 15. It is under the direct supervision of the Fraternity Women's Committee for the New York World's Fair as a member group of The Advisory Committee on Women's Participation for the New York World's Fair of 1939.

Students may submit one 1,000-word editorial each. Complete details on rules, form, and choice of topics may be secured at the Golden Gater office.

Special Bulletin

All classes will be dismissed at 10:00 a.m. Wednesday for an important meeting of the entire student body in the First Baptist Church, corner of Hermann and Octavia Streets.

Green Trimming Novel Dance At St. Patrick's Jig

Alpha Phi Gamma Select Irish Saint For Theme Of Friday Nite's Shindig

A new type of Irish jig is the theme of the Alpha Phi Gamma dance to be held St. Patrick's day, Friday, March 17, in the gym. Staters, decked out in their finest green trimmings, will abandon the Highland Fling and the fiddle for soft lights and sweet swing.

Dave Schutz is the chief man of the doings and is being aided by Lew Morris, in charge of publicity; Jean Dooley, Connie Field, Sybil Hurning, and Louise Vallarino makeup the dance committee.

Billy Rose will give away free chances on ten free tickets Wednesday, March 15, and the lucky winners will be announced the morning of the dance. Those who aren't lucky enough to win their way in will have to pay 25c with a student body card; 35c to those outside the State clan.

The laddies that are playing music have, as yet, not been chosen.

Pressure Groups Aid Building Plan

By ED POOLE

7,000 San Franciscans have recently given their whole hearted support to State's proposed Ingleside campus.

The Second District of the P.T.A. Congress, a potentially powerful pressure group, will actively aid the campaign for the new site; the Golden Gater learned this week from Mrs. E. S. Hopper, President of the Patrons Association.

"The members of the entire organization are in accord that the College needs a new site, new buildings and new surroundings. We are in favor of developing the College as an educational institution," said Mrs. Hopper, "and we will emphatically protest any obstruction that may be used to prevent furthuring the scope of its program."

A special meeting of the parents of San Francisco State College students was held Thursday night in Frederick Burk Auditorium, to discuss the new campus program.

Dr. Alexander Roberts spoke on the growth of the college and the need for an improved site. It was emphasized that the parents must be in accord on the choice of Ingleside, and that much could be accomplished by unified action. It was suggested that State secure the backing of all the San Francisco improvement clubs.

In regard to the opposition offered by the people in the 26th Legislative District, it was suggested that the land and buildings when sold could be used for an ideal recreational or educational center. If the Haight Street merchants could be shown the advantages of such a set-up, they would not object to the proposed move to Ingleside.

EDELSTEIN, SCHUTZ DEMAND SEATS ON EXECUTIVE BOARD

Lower Class Officers Make Accusations of Incompetence Against Past Officers of the Executive Board

Monday, March 6

Demanding that their seats on the Executive Board be retained under the new constitution, Dave Schutz, athletic manager, and Joe Edelstein, low soph president, paced the argument at tonight's Executive Board meeting.

With accusations of incompetence among officers in the past, the arguments about the retention of the low class officers on the board centered around the thesis of Edelstein that the lower division would be under-represented under the new proposed constitution.

Claims of juvenility and inexperience among the former low class officers who have had seats on the board featured the argument against the retention of those officers. The framers of the constitution claimed that the lower division would be represented by the student representatives-at-large. The matter was tabled.

A proposal by Stephen Mills, Gater Art Editor, that he be allowed to start a date bureau passed, as did the quip by Mr. Mills that "You can't meet an Adonis for a quarter!"

The Executive Board gave a vote of confidence to the faculty in their plans for State Day at the Fair.

WE NEED SCHOLARSHIPS

Sigma Alpha Eta Leads

Sigma Alpha Eta, men's honorary fraternity, offers a semi-annual scholarship of thirty dollars to any needy upper division man with a 1.5 grade average or better.

The application blanks may be obtained in Dean Valentine's office, and must be returned before the end of the thirteenth week of the semester before which the scholarship is desired.

This is the first attempt to establish an award scholarship of this type at San Francisco State College, and it seems a very commendable one. There are a great many students with ability and of value to the college who are enabled to continue their education with the help of such a scholarship, while if none such were provided, these students would be left high and dry.

It would be a great boon to the college if more scholarships of this nature could be established.

More Petticoats Than B. V. D.s!

LID-LIFTERS

Dear Lid-lifter:

Why is it that State students are so blase and indifferent. Noon directors have attempted to line up a ping-pong tournament and have met with indifference. During the tournament, players will be moved off the courts to make way for the tournament players, and then will protest vigorously. All the time they could have taken advantage of the same opportunity.

It ceases to be a case of "Well, what's the use?" Something should be done. Something must be done. If not for the good of the students themselves, then for the spirit of the school as a whole. The ping pong tournament, for example, has always had a record tournout. Even that meets with inertia now.

Let's try to perk up.

Sally and Susie Jones

Several students while busily engaged in doing their respective jobs of leaning on the shovel (otherwise known as N.Y.A. work) got to talking about fraternities. They have everything from "soup to nuts" along the line of fraternities in this school and we got to thinking about an N.Y.A. organization. But, we have no name. We might call it "Tood A LUMMA A Lumma" or however you spell the darn song title, and when we worked on rainy days it would be our theme song. How do we go about forming such an organization and what is a good name?

Publishing House Attempts New Idea In Magazine Field

BY WILMA HILL

A new experiment in the magazine field has been conceived by the Stet Publishing Company of Chicago.

The general idea of the new monthly, entitled Contrast, is to present tomorrow's authors.

Material for the first issue was submitted by university students and various aspiring writers of all ages. No particular style or type of writing is favored above another . . . no creed, nor race, nor religion is favored . . . it is a magazine without slant and without prejudices. . . .

If this venture succeeds financially, art work, cartoons, and amateur photography may be included within its pages. If this happens, the original purpose of the magazine will be lost . . . and the value of the publication would accordingly decrease. Contrast has been presented to us in the first issue as an organ by which inexperienced authors can gain recognition. If Contrast is to retain its full value, it should remain a true training ground.

As the magazine stands at present, fiction, essays, poems, and satire mold it into a well-rounded literary periodical.

A Who's Who of the writers in each issue tops off the stories themselves. College students and

REFLECTIONS ON THE WEEKEND OF A MUSIC MAJOR

Friday afternoon: Rush to get to the symphony. Just made it; hmm, don't see many Staters around— Dave Colvig, George Alves, Al Beseman. Next week when Brailowsky guests it with the symphony we'll see plenty of them. Monteux is still as fine as ever. "Schumann's B Flat Symphony" and the "Siegfried Idyll" are excellently done. Prokofieff's "Concerto", with Blinder as violin soloist, is a little too weird for me. Sounds like the background music to a Chan-du

LIFTING THE LID

Mr. Ernie Miguel
Editor, Golden Gater
Dear Ernie:

The stand you have taken concerning the newly proposed constitution seems very unfortunate indeed. It is not a question of an indifferent constitution committee, as you so naively put it, but a lack of concrete knowledge concerning the actual publications set-up, despite the fact that two ex-editors are on the committee.

No man is perfect, nor is any one body of men who are elected to govern a body of students. The committee has made mistakes—yes; but, according to the present constitution, the editor of the Golden Gater has a seat, although non-voting, on the Executive Board. It is your duty to the students of this college to attend the meetings and make known the mistakes made by this board concerning any publication controversy. It is not your duty to become loquacious before being hurt. It is most unfortunate that you have failed in your duty by not attending such meetings.

"With this one-man control of publications, a conglomeration of incompetence, graft, corruption and haphazard administration is possible." This is a quote from your column regarding the Director ("Dictator") of Publication. Despite the fact that the Golden Gater has always been in favor of progressive movements, you are distinctly afraid to pioneer ideas that will bring publications under control—something the publications have never had, and something that former Boards of Publications never exercised over its constituents. I am afraid, Ernie, that you are guilty of gross myopia.

Asinine? Certainly not. The provision in the constitution stating that the Executive Board shall have the final authority in all controversial matters pertaining to publications is for your distinct benefit. Possibly you remember the stupid quarrel brought up by the Director of Publications last spring with the Franciscan. If the Executive Board did not have the final authority, a whim of the Director would have cost the Franciscan some 200 dollars extra.

We do not want meddling with OUR constitution. Myopia! If changes were not made, an Executive Board and constitution detrimental to the progress of student government would remain in power.

We have been friends for a number of years, and I hope to remain your friend, but the criticism of a destructive nature which you have peddled is fast becoming a boomerang. Without an alternative suggested, criticism can breed more hatred than co-operation.

Best of luck to you with the Gater, I remain,

Sincerely,
Ed Smith

Ballhawks Bunch Errors, Spread Hits In 8-5 Loss

Mailho Is Victim of Third Straight Infield Blow-up At San Jose

By PHIL SCHMIDT

For the third straight time, errors were responsible for a Golden Gater baseball defeat. The last was to the San Jose Spartan, and by an 8 to 5 score last Saturday at San Jose.

Pitcher Mailho hurled a good game, as the Gaters outhit their peninsula rivals. However, a bevy of five errors in rather rapid succession allowed the Joseans to grab their win.

Dick Osborne blasted a home run for the Gaters, as did Dunn of San Jose. McRitchie also got his share of hits smashing out two for five, one of the blows being a long double.

The winning pitcher was Leroy Zimmerman, famed Spartan grid star.

Putting on a whiz-bang of a game, the Guzzlers and Hardened Slugs broke the long drought of defaults last Friday with the Guzzlers winning the game by the close score of 1-0. Mel Careu, Guzzler's pitcher, held the slugs to a few scattered bingles and was admirably supported in the field by team-mates Joyce Chapman, Elmer Harvey, Gus Cakos, and John Calamoneri.

SCHWARTZ SINGLES

The Guzzler's lone score came as a result of a timely single by Fred Schwartz to shove Duffecy across the platter.

Today's feature attraction brings together the defending champion Alpha Phi Gamma and the Guzzlers. The Guzzlers will give the Gammas a tough battle since they have beaten a team that tied the Gammas. Along with the Dinks, the Guzzlers hold the top spot in Division A standings and are bent on upsetting the dope by trimming the news-writers.

HULBERT TO TWIRL

Phil Schmidt, Alpha manager, will start Jack Hulbert on the mound and insists that Hulbert will win easily. Bill Rose will cover the outfield along with Monsees and Ernie Miguel, while the infield will be aptly protected by Maurer, Schutz, MacMullen, Morris, and Bischoff. Schmidt will catch Hulbert's tosses.

Mel Careu will toss for the Guzzlers and Captain Cakos has announced that his starting line-up will be Chapman, Harvey, and Schwartz in the oufield and Johnnie Calamoneri, Stan Winter, Hodgins, DeConde, and Tarp covering the short-patch.

The powerful Playground Directors will take the field tomorrow against the Hotshots. Frank Jackson will start Ken Johnson or Bobbie Robinson on the mound with Arlington, Venturi, Castro, Eisen, and Garden in the infield. Covering the outer gardens will be Al Eisen, Bill Plutte, Debrecht, and "Hoppy" Hopkins. The Hotshots, led by Captain Frankie Bostick, will offer Davidson on the mound to stop the Directors.

Netters Lead League Following Gael Win

Fighting to retain top place in the Northern California Intercollegiate Conference, the Golden Tide varsity racqueteers will travel southward to meet the San Jose State Spartans in the Prune City next Saturday morning.

The local netters are at present leading the league in company with the University of San Francisco.

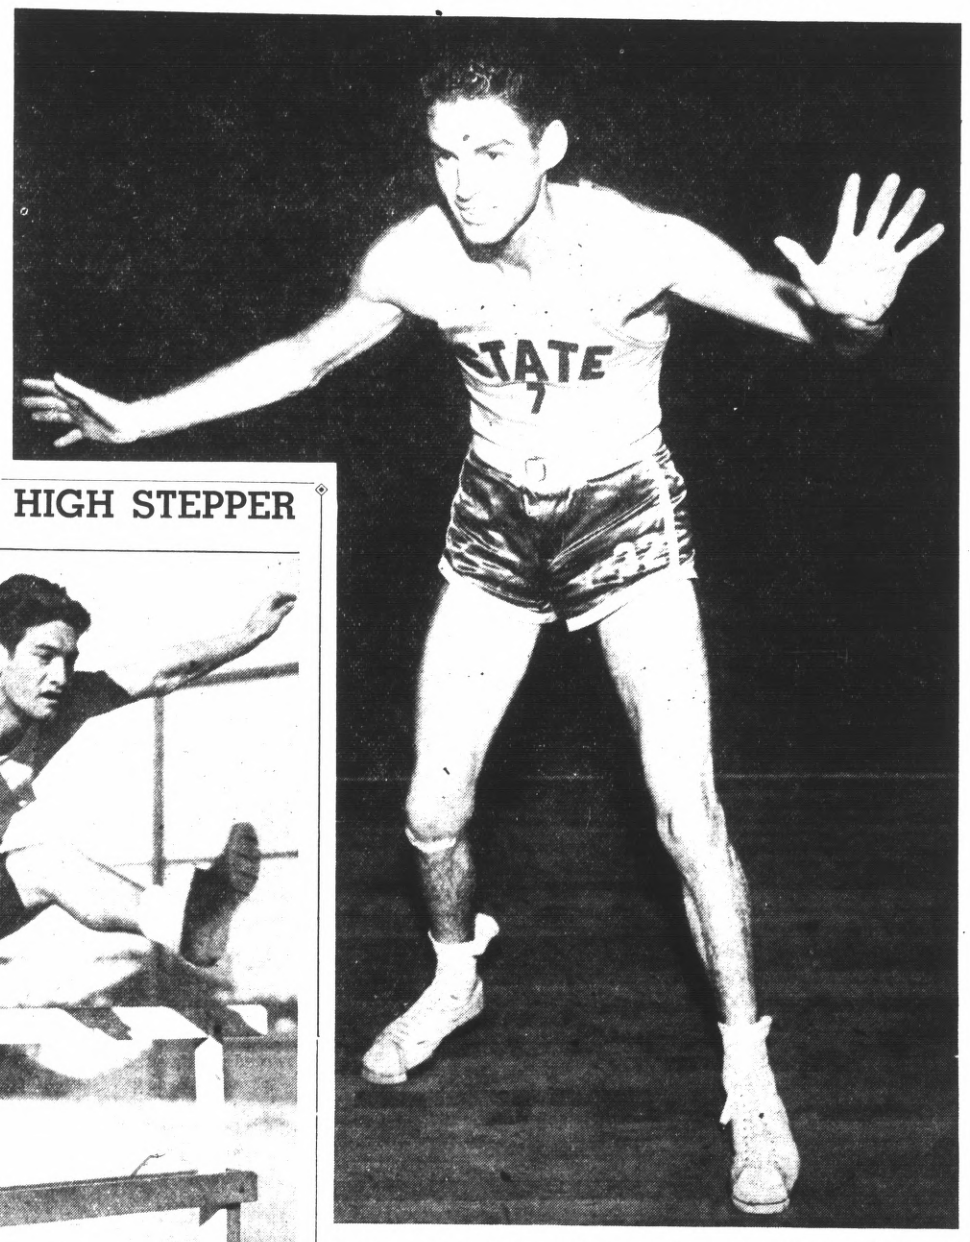
HIGH STEPPER

Speed, grace and rhythm are all exemplified to near perfection when freshman George Otis takes the high hurdles. A former Commerce High cinder sensation, Otis is competing in the high jump, broad jump and pole vault as well as both hurdle barriers for State. Last Saturday he won the pole vault from San Mateo J. C. but faded somewhat in the other events.

ON THE ROCKY ROAD TO DENVER



Lone survivor of seven State varsity casaba players entering the Pacific Association Cage Tournament, spectacular Dave Kerwin, ball-hawking guard, will be in his glory tonight as the powerful Young Men's Institute unfolds its attack against the Olympic Club in the first game of the final Pacific Coast play-offs at Kezar. Winner of the three game series will be sent to Denver to compete in the National Tournament.

San Mateo Cinderites Outdistance State Varsity In 67-53 Triumph

Although Luther Theofield, Negro sprint star, came through for three first places, the State track squad was still not able to cope with a powerful San Mateo J. C. team, losing to their peninsula neighbors by a 67½ to 53½ score, last Saturday afternoon at Kezar Stadium.

The Gater's spring ace won the 100 and 220 yard dashes going away, and then finished the day up by winning the broad jump. He did :09.9 in the century to tie the school record.

Other men who took first places for State were Jim Gittins, John Sheppard, and George Otis. A 42 feet, 2 inch throw on his last chance gave Gittins the victory in the shot. His heave went one inch farther than the put of Socrates Pantages, who had been leading till then.

Sheppard's win came in the 220 low hurdles, and Otis won first place laurels in the pole vault.

San Mateo's big gun was Les Steers who won the javelin, discus, 120 high hurdles, took third in the shot and tied for first in the high jump. He continued his winning in the evening by taking the high jump at 6 ft. 8¼ in. in Treasure Island's Coliseum.

Wading Under The Tide With Minnie Mermaid

By BRUMMAL

Confusion reigns supreme on the San Francisco sport front these days!

First the Stanford Daily surprised campus sport followers several weeks back by running a story on "Saturday's Important Rugby Game With San Francisco State."

Imagine the Indians' embarrassment when learning the State Rugby team was non-existent and their opponents were the lowly Dons of San Francisco University. (An apology for such an insult to our non-existent Ruggers should be forthcoming any day now.)

Then, only last week the Chronicle gave State credit for a startling basketball victory over San Mateo J. C. that was eked out somehow or other by our "friend" the Rams.

It now appears the only thing needed to top things off is for some local daily to make the natural and obvious mistake of confusing our varsity baseball nine with the Freddy Burk Unholy Terrors, although the latter squad would be quite justified in starting a libel suit after watching Jack Fisher and Joe Sanz uncover the short patch.

Broncos Fail To Take First Place Against Lashing Golden Tide

Paris, Collet Lead 47-19 Pt. Parade With Twin Victories

By BOB BUCKLEY

Walking off with every first place, the high flying Gater swimming team swamped the Santa Clara swimmers by a 47-19 score last Friday evening in the Bronco's pool.

PARIS UNPRESSED

Henry Paris and Lyle Collet led the onslaught with a couple of wins apiece. Paris had an easy time of it in both the 220 yard race and the quarter mile swim, winning as he pleased. Collet scored his double by outsprinting the Broncos in the 50 and 100 yard events.

Other individual triumphs were scored by Bert Singer and Johnny Haake. The former copped the 200 breast stroke by a good size margin, while the latter finished out in front in the back stroke race.

RELAYS PROVE FROLIC

It was all State in the relay races. The team of Haake, Singer, and Keller walked off with the 300 medley, and Haake and Singer joined forces with Paris and Collet to far outdistance their opponents in the 400 yard four man relay.

The results:

	State	SC
300 yd. Medley Relay—Won by State (3:32.2)	5
220 yd. free—Paris (S), Reilly (SC), Connolly (SC) (2:26.2)	5	4
50 yd. free—Collet (S), Lutz (SC), Walker (SC) (25.7)	5	4

Doctors R. Cave And F. Cave Hurl Debatable Daggers

By BOB BLACKWELL

Logic at ten paces! Economics department versus Government Department! At the repeated requests of the Forensic Council, Dr. Roy Cave and Dr. Floyd Cave will give an exhibition debate in annex A-10 Thursday at noon time.

The National College debate question as proposed by Pi Kappa Delta is so broad in its scope that the State debate squad has been running to the Dr.'s Cave repeatedly for information and suggestions. Finally, and inevitably, the debater's asked the honorable Doctors to debate the question themselves in the hope that they (the debaters) might be able to profit from the intelligence of them (the Doctors).

So it has been arranged that the Doctors will debate! Remember, in Annex A-10, Thursday at high noon! After the Doctors finish speaking, and have cooled off somewhat, questions from the floor to them will be allowed.

college professors have submitted material—all with the same goal, a writing career.

Since Contrast is a beginning concern, rates of payment for accepted material are of necessity low. In consideration of this fact, the publishers make it their policy never to accept anything without writing the author exactly what they are able to pay for his work, and asking his permission to accept it. Present rates are about ¼ cent per word for prose material. This isn't a large amount, but young people can at least have the pleasure and thrill of seeing their stuff in print. And of course there is always the possibility that the right person might see the magazine.

Amusing sketches serve as illustrations for the fiction material in this new venture, as well as for the departments. The lower case style made popular by Don Marquis is employed for the by-lines. This system is annoying to those of us who have had punctuation pounded into us from the fifth grade through college. Contrast editors may be using this style for the purpose of designating inexperience, or they may be using it solely as something novel. Regardless of its purpose, lower case names are annoying.

Despite this one sore spot, the makeup of Contrast is different and good. Simplicity is the keynote from cover to cover.

Contrast shows the possibility of becoming a tradition among neophyte writers—a tradition to be encouraged by everyone interested in modern literature.

LID-LIFTER

Dear Editor:

Proverb Number 312, Page 35, "Seven Hundred Chinese Proverbs" collected by Patrick Pichi Sun, translated by Henry H. Hart and published by the Stanford University Press in California and the Oxford University Press in London, call number R398.9, H25 as listed in the Berkeley City Library, Shattuck and Kittredge Streets, Berkeley, Alameda County, California, states (quote) HE WHO HAS NO HAIR ON HIS LIP CANNOT BE TRUSTED TO DO ANYTHING WELL. (end quote)

Question: Has this guy Plinius who is always popping off any hair on his lip? Or is he just another sissy?

W. H. P. "He-man" Brummal

P.S.—I have so many hairs on my lip it takes two hands to count them. Why can't I pass any courses besides Roy Cave's?

As The Gater Sees It . . .

By ERNIE MIGUEL
Editor

A new aspect to the complaint registered by the Gater last semester that the State provides more for criminals and the insane than for college students has been provided by our unknown friend, PLINIUS.

In effect, Mr. Plinius' suggestion is that the State begin subsidizing genius as well as insanity . . . in the form of marriage aid to college students . . .

Following is the letter received from our anonymous correspondent yesterday morning:

Editor
Golden Gater
Sir:

If our government only had about twice as much money as it has now, I would like to add another department to the list that includes the WPA and the NYA. This would be the MHA (Marriage Help Administration).

I believe the old superstition that "two can live as cheaply as one" has at last been eradicated by the process of experience. Young men, and especially those seeking to further their education by continuing through college, have found it impossible to provide the necessary equipment needed for a happy marriage—Here is the root of all your sex problems. The postponement of mating. That's why necking is so prevalent, and divorces so numerous.

However, another man has already put this problem in words much clearer than mine. I refer to T. S. Stribling, who in his "Unfinished Cathedral" states:

"Our period of human mating has remained where it was in the Stone Age, from 17 to 20 years old. That is the period of the greatest biological intensity and efficiency. But our technical civilization has advanced the age of efficient productivity to about 30 or 40 years old. Adolescent boys and girls want to marry intensely. They want to marry just one person, and the thought of anyone else fills them with repulsion. But they have to repress these lovely monogamistic desires, because at that age the boys simply can't make a living.

"The girls on the contrary, do not have to earn livings so they marry older men who are productively efficient. The boy, when he becomes able to support a family, chooses some younger girl of an age that corresponds to the girl he once loved. In the process both men and women have been taught to love POLYGAMOUSLY, because they have been forced to change their desire from one person to another and another."

And so, as Stribling so well puts it, "a really moral life can only be lived in a world where the biological and industrial ages of efficiency coincide." It may be a long time before our world will be like that. We will have to learn now to run our economic system better.

But how about people like you and me? We'd like to marry, but we can't. When we finally do get to the period when we can support a wife, we aren't fit for her any more.

Perhaps the answer is in some form of social aid to young married couples, let us say, for the first year of marriage at the very least. I don't know where the money would come from. I am not ever sure that this would end the problem.

But will this present trend continue until the family is pulled completely apart and our civilization dies?

A well-rounded college education — an education that will pay dividends in cold cash later on — should include not only "college theories" but, if possible, some . . .

The dances are divided into several groups, characterizing moods of Flattery, Threat, and Victory; the prologue will be a solo by Miss Bernice Van Gelder, instructor of the group.

Leading the dancers will be Miss Eleanor Ely, of the P. E. dept., Fran Twohig, Audrey Steele, and Jean Van Arsdale. During the next week tryouts will be held to select the other dancers.

The dance will be repeated on April 26th for a Student Assembly.

HIGH AND LOW NOTES

movie. Well done, though. "The Pines of Rome" are absolutely breath-taking, the harm nic structure lovely.

Rush home to dinner, just enough time to go out and get date, and be downtown at the Curran. The Comedian Harmonists make one wonder at first why the "Comedian", because everything is done so seriously and beautifully. The first tenor has an outstandingly fine voice. Aha, here comes the comedy, and no fooling. The little guy in the center definitely has a method to his madness. The novelty of the organization sells it to the public. The show's over . . . now to the Mark, where Joe Reichman, the "Palace of the Piano" reigns. Reichman's take-off on a strip-tease is fine fun. The one man show has taken the crowd by storm; proof: full dining room. The vocalist is top-rate too. As we leave the Hotel, we try to think of what the orchestra itself sounded like. No, Reichman was all that we could remember. Joe reminds one of Hugh Herbert in the "Golddiggers of Paris".

Up early Saturday morning to give a lesson; wish there were more pupils . . . Lent is a dead season for dance orchestras. Study the rest of the day until six. Meet in front of the Palace to go to Capitola out of Santa Cruz. Ouch, an open car with no curtains. Can't you put on the curtains, Selly? . . . Why did I ever work my way thru college in an orchestra; digging ditches would have been easier. A violin player on either side with arms practically frozen off. Ohh, those curves, Selly, even if we do arrive on time we won't be able to play. Sixty miles an hour around these curves on Skyline. We might just as well die going going over a cliff as of exposure, though. This part of Jimmie Howard's Orchestra is certainly a pretty sight.

The Freshman dance on Treasure Island, April 1, will be much nicer. Well, here we [illegible] the violin players look gl[illegible]. We had beter play wh[illegible] for a while. Only te[illegible] Surprising, how we m[illegible] together after tha[illegible] that the people ev[illegible] sic. The people do[illegible] much differently tha[illegible] the bay. After further [illegible] we notice that we are [illegible] the ocean, a beautiful s[illegible] would be nice to work h[illegible] during the summer. The evening is over fast—that is, the playing [illegible] and we pack up. Hooray. Selly g[illegible] the curtains. After gabb[illegible] getting gas, and atter[illegible] sundry matters, we st[illegible] me at 4 a.m. (The job [illegible] a.m.) Arrive in S. F. [illegible] as the dawn begins [illegible] tired, and sleepy. W[illegible] dental look good wh[illegible] hands with Dr. Robert[illegible] evening in May!

Sunday, up at 12. I'm [illegible] to study today . . . Oh, hell[illegible] when did you get into t[illegible] No, I haven't been to Treasure [illegible] but I'm going to study t[illegible] It's certainly nice over h[illegible] isn't it Stan? The Science build[illegible] has plenty to see. This idea of l[illegible] to people talk on the phone is old stuff; I live on a ranch where we have 13 parties on our phone line. We don't even need a newspaper . . . The new clipper is PLENTY big. The Voder, the machine that talks, really is something. Wonder if they can make it a soprano voice, too. The machine is in the telephone exhibit, and queerly enough, some of the words that it can't say are "Bell Telephone". The Island is really pretty at night, but time to go home. Feet, you have done nobly. Wonder if I'll have enough time to write the column tonight. Gosh, Pierce wanted it in on Friday.

Oh-oh, I forgot. Knuth will really walk all over me in Ed. 171 tomorrow. He assigned half of that book. Tsk, Tsk.
